

Vassilis Georgiadis is an economist graduate of the University of Macedonia and holder of two master's degrees in applied accounting and auditing from the Department of Accounting and Finance of the University of Macedonia and Business Administration from the International University of Greece. He has many years of experience in the private sector and since 2020 he is the president of the Economic Chamber of Central Macedonia.